

Publishing a Project Summary Website: Introduction

Hello and welcome to ePlanning Basics module, Publishing a Project Summary Website. My name is Matt McCoy. I'm an assistant field manager in the Four Rivers Field Office. Today, we're going to learn how to access and log in to Back Office, navigate around Back Office, create a project summary website, and update that project summary website when we have new information. Let's get started with accessing and logging in to Back Office.
