

Demonstrate respect for tribal heritage and worldview

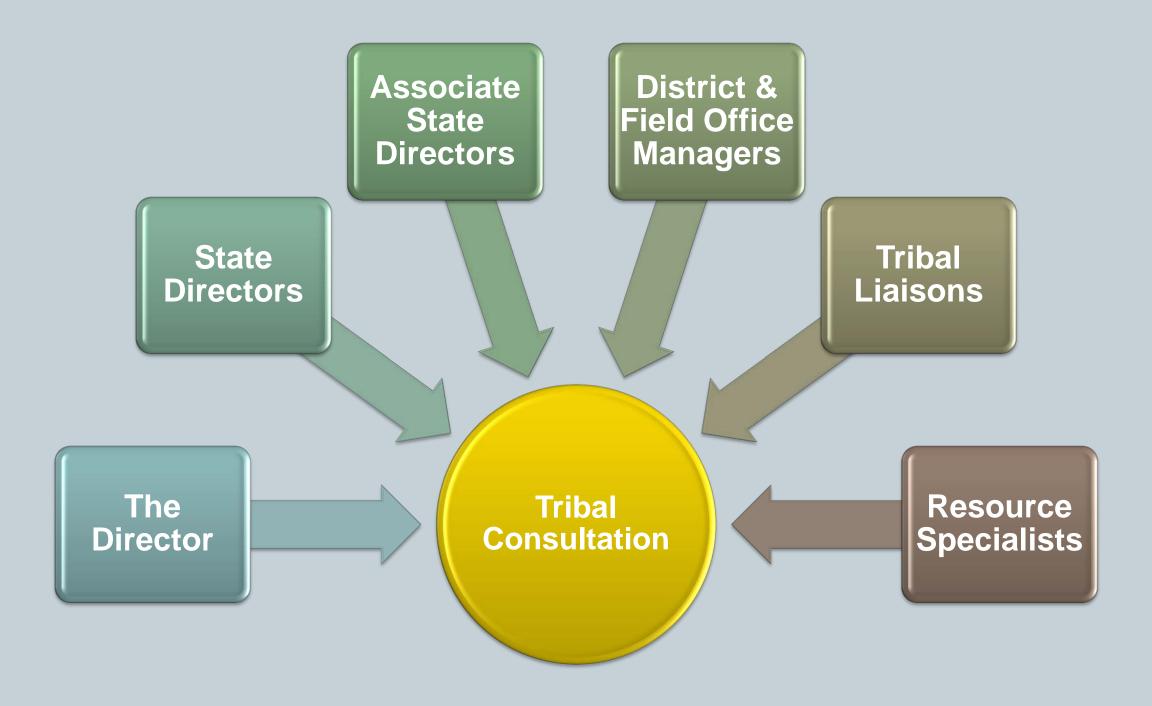

Learn about tribal organization

Read ethnographic histories

Build long-term relationships based on our common interest in managing & protecting lands & resources

BLM representatives in consultation

Programs with responsibilities for tribal consultation

Cadastral survey

Cultural resources

Fire & aviation

Forestry

Lands & realty

Minerals

Planning & NEPA

Rangeland & plant conservation

Recreation

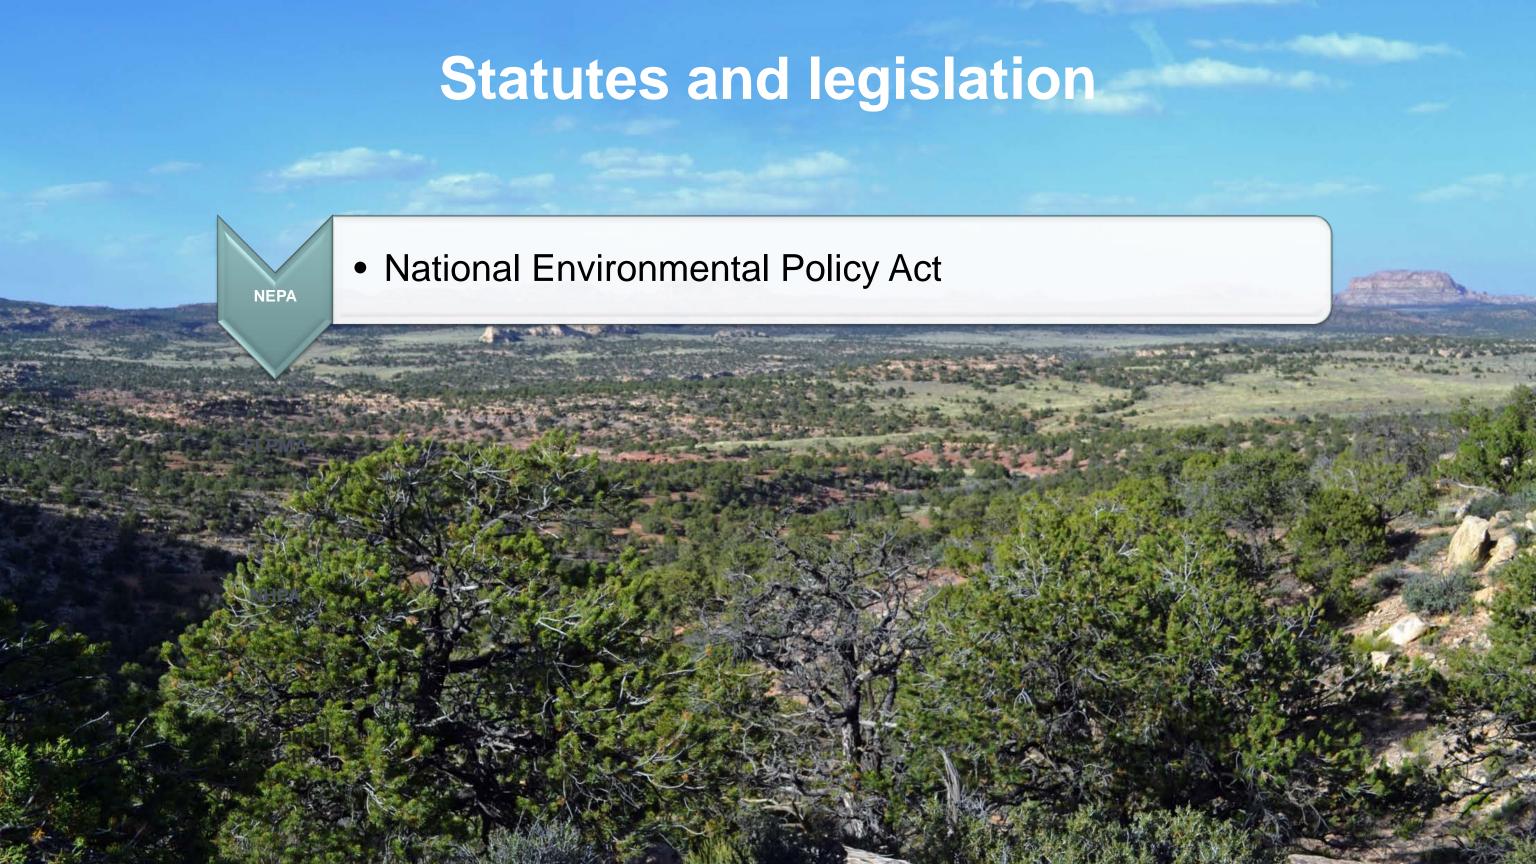

Renewable energy

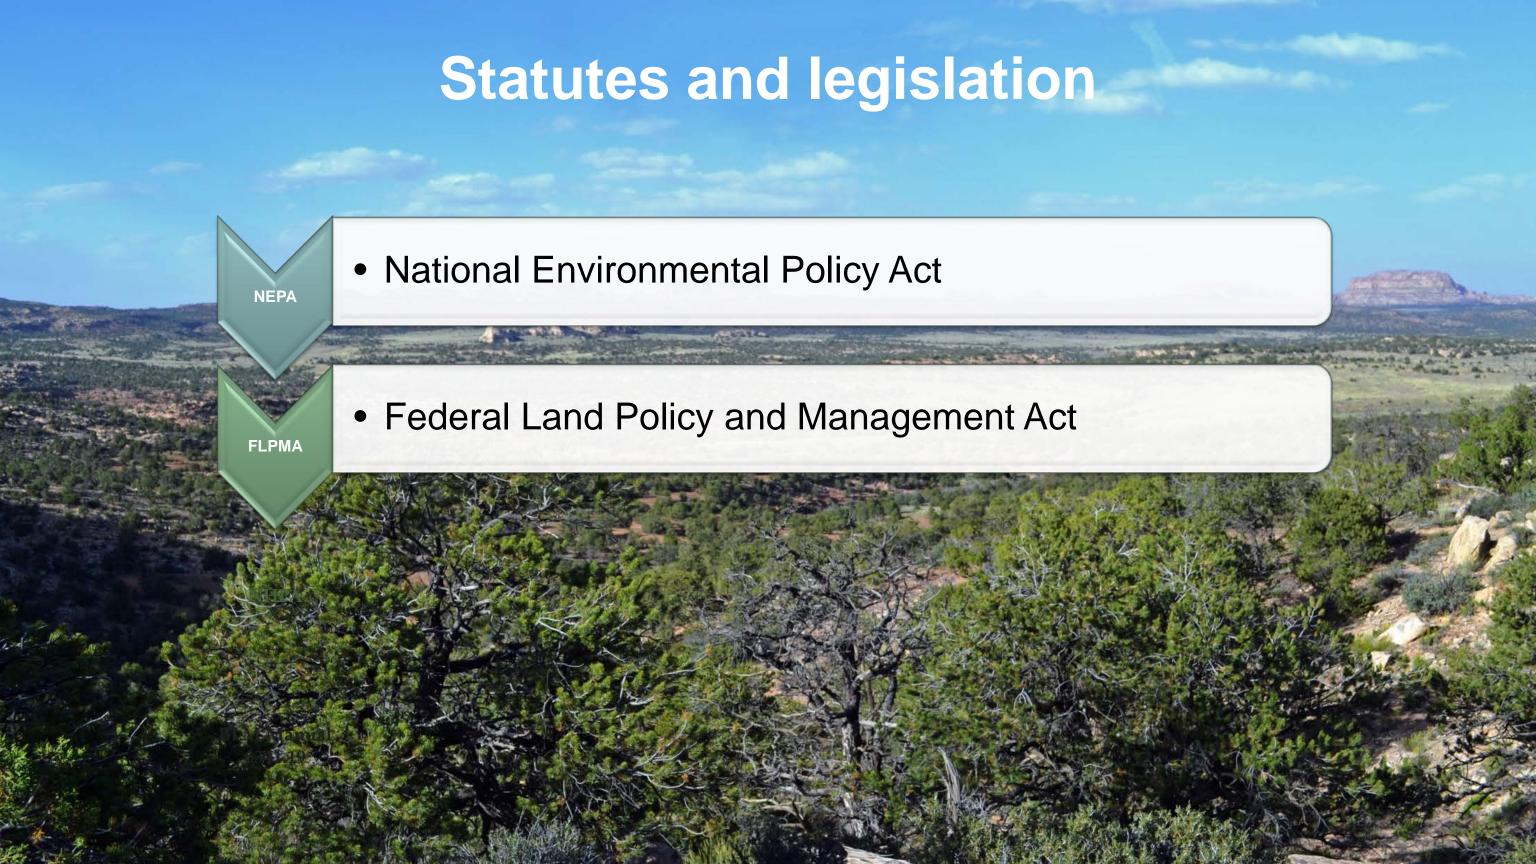

Soil, water & air

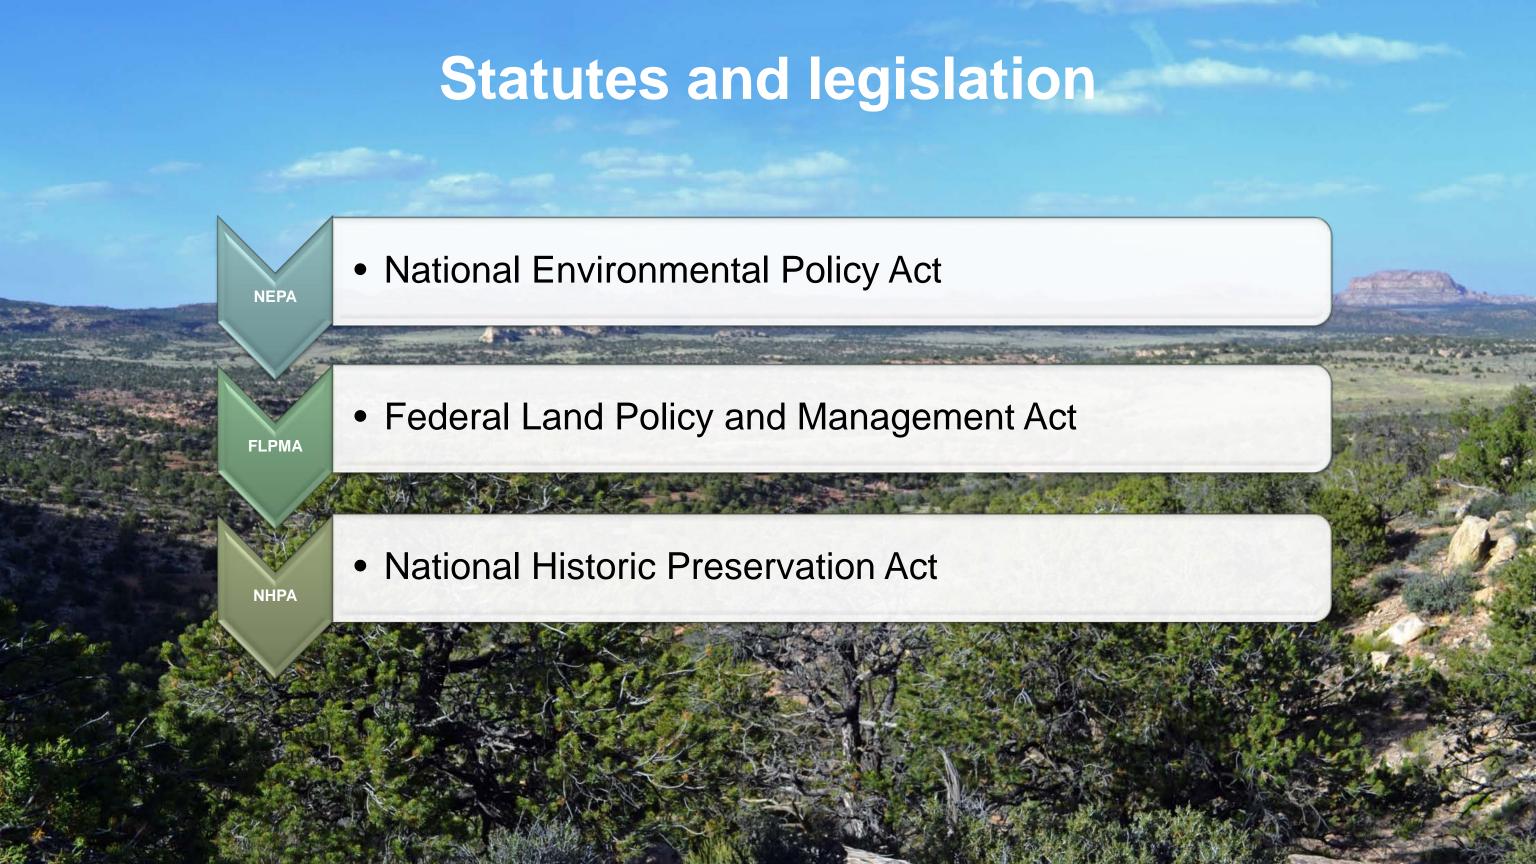

Wildlife & fisheries

Wilderness

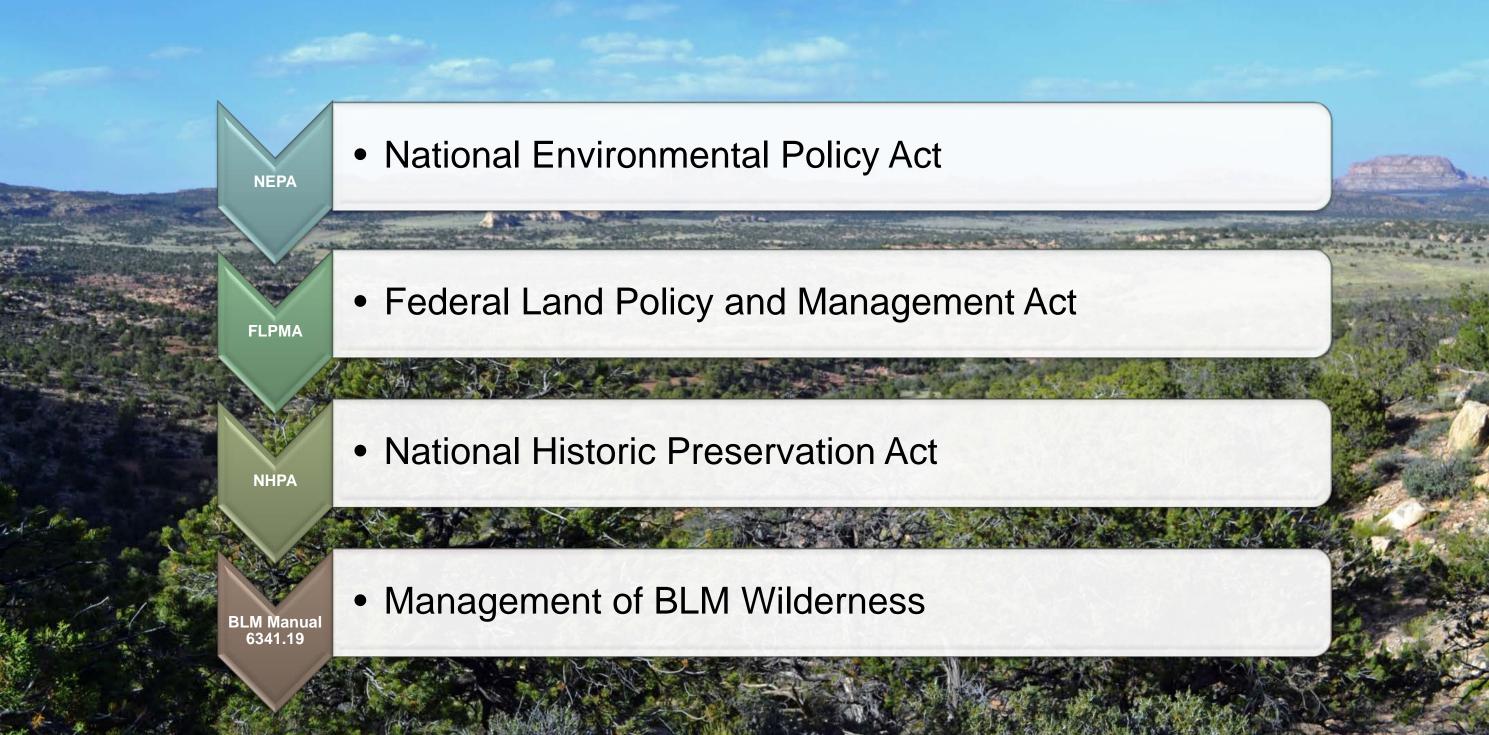

Statutes and legislation

Indian tribes are sovereign domestic dependent nations

They are not stakeholders, municipalities, state governments, or the public

What is Consultation?

 Two-way communication between the agency and an American Indian or Alaska Native tribal government regarding proposed BLM actions

 The purpose is to obtain substantive tribal input and involvement in the decision making process

Each tribe may have their own idea of what is meaningful consultation

Consultation efforts

Notification letter

Follow up emails and phone calls

Person to person visits

Presentations and meetings

Field visits

Each tribe is unique!

The nature of the interaction between individual tribes and the BLM should be mutually agreed

What are BLM's property-based trust responsibilities?

Indian minerals management

Cadastral survey of Indian properties

Potential effects of public land actions that extend onto tribal lands

Compensation to tribes

Managers may provide, or require that land use applicants provide, financial compensation to Indian tribes to help cover the costs for consulting with the BLM on land use planning and authorizations

Compensation to tribes

Appropriated funds or cost reimbursable accounts may be used to reimburse tribal elders or officials for travel expenses to attend meetings in connection with NEPA, FLPMA or the NHPA Section 106 process

What is in the handbook?

How to conduct and document consultation efforts

How to identify tribal leaders and their representatives

How to develop strategies to achieve success in our relations and G-to-G consultations

How to recognize tribal motivations driving consultations

Programs with responsibilities for tribal consultation

Cadastral survey

Cultural resources

Fire & aviation

Forestry

Lands & realty

Minerals

Planning & NEPA

Rangeland & plant conservation

Recreation

Renewable energy

Soil, water & air Wildlife & fisheries

Wilderness

